

ETHEL CLAYTON'S PICTURE BASED ON M'UTCHEON NOVEL

Story of "The Mystery Girl" is Humorous, Dramatic and Appealing

Ethel Clayton, the talented, beautiful and versatile Paramount star, will be seen in "The Mystery Girl" at the Liberty theatre next Wednesday. Marion Fairfax adapted the picture from one of George Barr McCutcheon's latest and most popular novels—"Green Fanny"

George Barr McCutcheon has the reputation of never writing a dry story. His imagination is vivid and he puts a great deal of originality into his books, coupled with a whimsical and fantastic humor, and a genius for invention that renders them entirely different from the average best seller.

"Green Fanny" was a striking

Short-range action beneath the general's eye!

JESSE L. LASKY presents FRED STONE IN "Johnny Get Your Gun" An ARTCRAFT Picture

REAL COWBOY ONCE; IS REEL ACTOR NOW

Hart Hoyle Has Good Role in "Johnny Get Your Gun."

Hart Hoyle was a real cowpuncher a few years ago and he was practically roped into the pictures. It all happened when he was punching cattle in Arizona and a moving picture company came along. Hart approached the place where the company was on location and watched the work with interest. The director of the company, seeing the good looking cowboy, asked him to work and Hart grinned and said he guessed he'd try it, maybe.

The director soon found that he had unearthed some real dramatic talent and before long Hart was in Southern California working in the pictures right along. In "Johnny Get Your Gun," the new Artcraft picture in which Fred Stone makes his third screen appearance at the Liberty theatre Sunday, August 8, Hart plays the important part of Bill Burnham, the pal of Johnny Wiggins, the chief character in the picture. Both boys are moving picture cowpunchers. Donald Crisp directed the picture and Henry Kotani did the camera work. The supporting cast is excellent.

"Too bad that old maid can not get a husband," remarked a Smart Aleck of a very charming maiden lady the other day.

But the "old maid" is fortunate in at least one respect—she hasn't a Smart Aleck for a husband.

She is not an upstart's slave, and she doesn't have to stand the abuse of one who doesn't know how to respect his own mother's sex.

She may be an "old maid" in point of years, but she is honored and respected, and decent people do not turn from her in disgust when she makes a remark about other people.

An "old maid" without a husband? Possibly so.

But of infinitely more value to the world than a Smart Aleck.

Ethel Clayton IN "The Mystery Girl" A Paramount Picture

story, but it is said to have been improved by its transference to the screen. The change in title gives a clearer idea of what it is about for Ethel Clayton is truly a girl of mystery and a very charming one.

There is a lot of trouble about crown jewels of an imaginary principality, and the war is introduced through the fact that the heroine is at first seen as an ambulance driver in the battle zone, while the hero, played by Henry Woodward, is an American Army captain, invalided home because of a smoker's heart. There is adventure, thrill, excitement and humor in the story and the ending is said to be distinctly charming.

William C. DeMille directed the picture with much skill. The supporting cast is an excellent one, the players including Henry Woodward, Clarence Burton, Charles West, Winter Hall, Maym Helso and Parks Jones.

A "Fatty" Arbuckle comedy is also booked for Wednesday night.

It wouldn't be so bad after all to have a woman for secretary of state. The secrets of the state department would be an open book, and that would prevent the danger of any entangling alliances.
